MOT Training

DVSA have announcement that over half of MOT testers have completed their training & assessment for this year. But we need to remind the rest of you that you've only got until 30th April to do this. Topics for 2021-2022 have been published & we'll send you an update in a few weeks!

The 30th April deadline is fast approaching, and we wanted to encourage you to book your MOT training & assessment with us at The Test Centre Training.

Our range of training and assessment options ensure that you are in the best position to help you reach the DVSA 80% pass mark required. We are offering a range of packages: assessment only, e-learning packages and our recommended; on-site training course. By completing your training on-site with us, it ensures all the relevant content is covered away from any distractions & ensures that you are fully prepared and confident before taking the assessment. Our recent poll on social media shows that one third of testers this year didn't pass first time.

MOT Volumes

MOT test numbers collapsed by 79% last April and 61% in May*, so there is no better time to complete MOT Training. Consider offering MOTs for all classes of vehicle or complete our Managers Course to ensure your business is running efficiently and fully compliant.

Become an MOT Tester

DVSA are predicting an increase of 50% more tests each month from October through to January. If you are an automotive technician, get your MOT qualification. This gives you the opportunity to work at capacity & utilise the volumes for your business. We are running Class 4&7 & ATA courses every week.
